

If I Could Share Out Happiness

Nanny says there's children – less fortunate than me
That we should all be thinking of at Christmas
I look around and realize how lucky I must be
I guess there's some little girl
In some corner of the world
Who has no Christmas at all

If I could share out happiness
I surely would because
It's in all of us
At The Plaza Hotel

If I could invite everyone
To share in all the fun
You'd be glad to come
To The Plaza Hotel
To The Plaza Hotel

Nanny says there's children who have nowhere to go
That we should all be thinking of at Christmas
Though I'm only six I think I'm old enough to know
Life for me is such a breeze
I'm so glad I'm Eloise
And I'd just so like to say

If I could share out happiness
I surely would because
It's in all of us
At The Plaza Hotel

If I could invite everyone
To share in all the fun
You'd be glad to come
To The Plaza Hotel

If I could share out happiness
I surely would because
It's in all of us
At The Plaza Hotel

If I could invite everyone
To share in all the fun
You'd be glad you'd come
To The Plaza Hotel
To The Plaza Hotel

Visit Eloise at www.eloise.com

The word "ELOISE" is written in a stylized, hand-drawn pink font. The letters are thick and slightly irregular, with a small trademark symbol (TM) at the end of the word.